Tall and handsome with its racemes of white flowers. Thrives in half shady or open places. Blooms in late Fall. 75c each, 3 for $2.00, 12 for $7.50.

COREOPSIS DIADEM

Not as tall as the common Coreopsis, this variety grows into a compact, neat plant. It's just covered with large yellow flowers, having a velvety red center. Blooms from early summer on.

These perennials have Daisy-like flowers: Asters, Chrysanthemums, Doronicum, Erigerons, Shasta Daisies, Pyrethrums, Gaillardias, Anthemis, and Rudbeckia.

CORONILLA CAPPADOCICA

A good trailer for rock-gardens and the margins of borders. Produces large yellow flowers during July and Aug. About 8" high.

CYPRIPEDIUM ACAULE—Ladyslipper

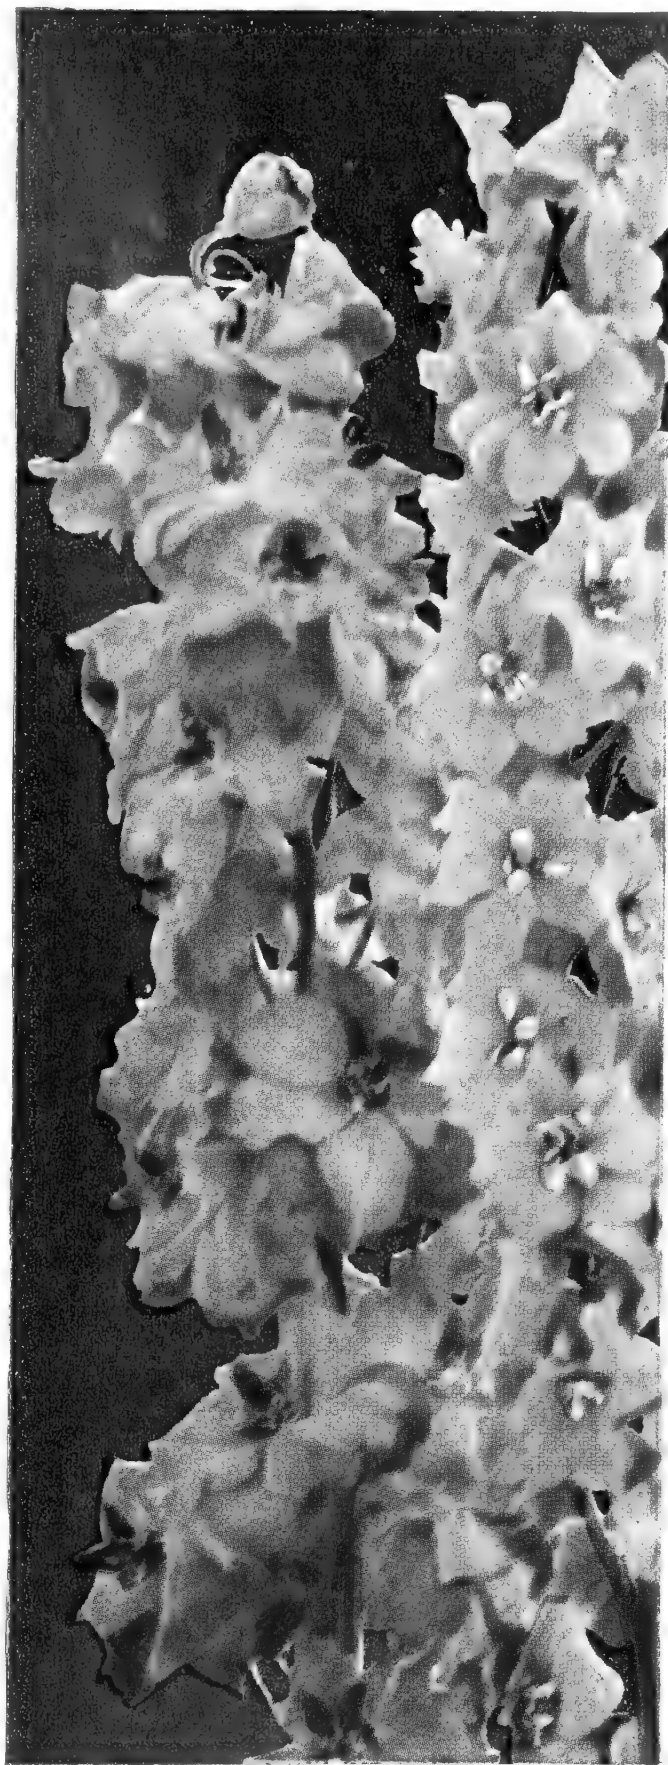

This hardy Orchid thrives best in a moist, peaty soil, in full or partial shade.

DELPHINIUMS—Larkspur

Belladonna—Light sky blue, not as strong growing as the Hybrids. This type has long blooming period and is grand for cutting.

Chinense—Blue Butterfly. Low, everblooming, it rarely grows more than 15 inches high. Gently blue.

Giant Pacific Hybrid—This strain is far superior to the average Hybrid Delphinium. The range of color varies from pale blue, blue and lavender, to deep blues and purples. Strong, stiff stems, sometimes 7' high. A must in every flower border.

Galahad Series—Giant double pure white.
King Arthur Series—Giant double, rich royal purple, with white eye.

Summer Skies Series—Shades of pale and light blues with white eyes. Named just right.

Camelliard Series—Lovely shades of lavender with white and honey-colored eyes.

The Above Four Series—75c each, 3 for $2.00, 12 for $7.50

PHLOX DECUSSATA—Hardy Summer Phlox

No garden is complete without several groups of this important perennial. Almost any ordinary garden soil will suit it, its main requirement being full sun. During midsummer, when flowers of other kinds are scarce, the summer Phlox gives you a blaze of color.

PHLOX—Choice Selected Varieties

Augusta (Plant Pat. No. 252)—A fine new Phlox with rich bronzy-green foliage, and sparkling cherry-red flowers.

Charles Curtis—One of the newest and best Phlox. It provides your garden with a contrast color of bright red.

Harvest Fire—Brilliant salmon-orange. Very vigorous grower. One of the best Phlox varieties introduced in many years.

Katherine—Pure lavender with large, individual flowers.

Leo Schlageter—Scarlet-red new Phlox produces rich, full flower-heads.

Lillian—Beautiful soft cameo-pink. Large, well-branched flower heads. One of the best.

Mary Louise—The best of the late-blooming varieties. Sturdy growth, with large, pure white flowers.

Mia Ruys—Large panicles of pure waxy-white flowers; light green leathery foliage. Growth is rather low.

Salmon Beauty—Rich salmon-pink with white center. Of all the Phlox in this general shade, we think this one takes the prize.

Purple Heart—This new, large flowered, purple-maroon Phlox, is easily the best in this color class. A strong grower, with clean, healthy foliage, it is absolutely stunning, planted with white or rose Phlox, or in front of a group of Hyperion Daylilies.
